

MARATHON

Spectators on Bikes

When biking anywhere on the Marathon Course, it is the biker's responsibility to follow all spectator Rules and Regulations listed below. Safety is our top priority on race day, and following these rules will keep both you and the runners safe.

Rules and Regulations:

- Spectators, bikers, and strollers should not impede any registered participant or the flow of road traffic
- No pacing runners
- All bikers must follow the directions of the course monitors, volunteers, Kiawah Island Security, and the police
- Helmets are suggested and complimentary with all Resort bike rentals
- Ride on the right side of the road, with the flow of traffic
- Ride single file, no biking side-by-side
- No circling runners
- Keep with the flow of bike traffic
- Give the right-of-way to all runners and pedestrians
- Be alert when crossing driveways, sidewalks, bike paths, and parking lots
- Obey all stop signs
- Yield to traffic coming from behind when turning left at intersections
- Use proper hand signals to indicate turns.
- Bikers on the course may only have intermittent contact with runners
