

KIAWAH ISLAND GOLF RESORT'S IMMERSIVE OCEAN COURSE EXPERIENCE

Kiawah Island, SC, June 17, 2021 – Kiawah Island Golf Resort announces the highly anticipated opening of The Cottages at The Ocean Course. Nestled beside the iconic clubhouse, the four two-story, four-bedroom cottages offer sweeping views of the driving range with the Atlantic Ocean serving as a dramatic backdrop.

The four cottages serve as the epicenter of a fully immersive bucket-list golfing experience at the course that hosted the famous 1991 Ryder Cup, the 2009 Senior PGA Championship, the 2012 PGA Championship and the 2021 PGA Championship.

“The Ocean Course has remained on every dedicated golfer’s bucket list since the final putt of the ’91 Ryder Cup,” says Kiawah Island Golf Resort President Roger Warren. “These cottages, by offering world-class accommodations directly on the course and in the shadow of the clubhouse, take an already superlative golfing experience to an unprecedented level of personalized service.”

The cedar shake cottages, each providing more than 3,800 square feet of livable space, were designed by the renowned Robert A.M. Stern Architects in a style that complements the firm’s earlier clubhouse design. Each cottage features two en suite bedrooms upstairs and two downstairs, with a spacious shared common living area comprised of an open-plan living room and kitchenette with a bar.

In addition to accommodations in The Cottages at The Ocean Course, guests who take enjoy The Ocean Course Experience will receive daily rounds of golf, daily breakfast either in The Ocean Course Clubhouse or in their cottage, a unique welcome amenity, a dedicated concierge who will help make all arrangements before and after arrival, and daily dedicated housekeeping.

Spring and fall rates start from $4,238 to $4,838 per cottage per night, summer rates start from $3,918 to $4,518 per cottage per night, and winter rates start from $2,590 to $2,870 per cottage per night, plus tax and resort fees.
